The Erindalian

We would like to bring to your attention that for the remainder of the year you will be under close observation. We don't want to give you the idea that your privacy will be invaded in any way, but rather, we have chosen you to be the cast of "FOCUS ON ERINDALE". This is primarily a short film on the evolution of this young college, with particular emphasis on the social and academic spirit. So relax and be yourself!

FIRE MARSHALL THREATENS TO CLOSE DOWN BOOKSTORE

Fire Marshall Cunningham threatened on Wednesday that if the books are not picked up off the floor of our bookstore and out of the way of the emergency exit before he returns, he will be forced to close the place down.

Manager David McKecknie's reaction?

"Where am I supposed to put them--on the ceiling?"

TO THE UNINTERESTED STUDENTS OF ERINDALE COLLEGE

Due to lack of response to the Transportation Questionnaire, Bus schedules and stops will not be changed.

HOWEVER!!

There will be one last chance. Those people who wish to express their feelings can do so by filling out another questionnaire in the SAGE office Room 155 Friday October 10 and Tuesday October 14.

DON'T BE APATHETIC!!

THINK ABOUT THE S.A.G.E. ELECTIONS!

OUR BOOKSTORE-"NO CAUSE FOR COMPLAINT"

Having heard all sorts of complaints about the prices of books in our bookstore, The Erindalian decided to get the real story. Speaking to manager David McKecknie, this week, here is what we found out.

The prices on the books that you buy are prices set by the publishers. Our store buys at that price but with a 20% discount. The difference provided by this discount is supposed to cover the operating expenses of the store. And does it? Not by a long shot!

The campus-wide U of T Bookstores organization as a whole showed a loss last year and our bookstore itself was in the red by a cool $14,000.00. The gross profit was a mere $4,000.00 against a total expense tally of $19,171.00.

The expenses include salaries, repairs, depreciation and, here's an item that gives the bookstore cause for complaint--last year $980.00 worth of stock was stolen.

So here we have a store open 8 hrs. a day and at least two evenings suffering large, large losses to bring you textbooks that are overpriced by publishers, if at all. So it would seem that complaints about these prices were made, as is usually the case, with no knowledge of the facts.

And by the way, when you buy a book, hold onto the receipt and don't mark the book. Within ten days of purchase you can return books as long as you have the receipt.

SUPPORT YOUR YEARBOOK

This summer Erindale will be presenting to its students the first annual yearbook. Work has begun already, and although things are still mostly in the planning stages, the editor, Susan Orrom and her staff, need your help and support NOW!!

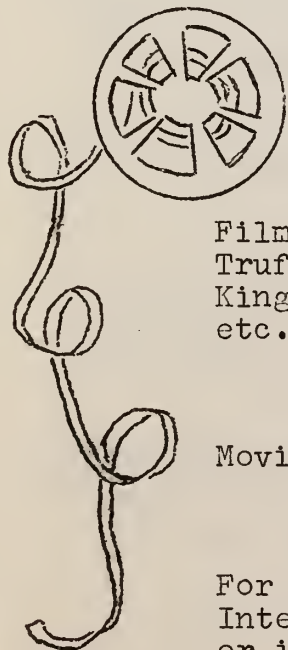

Among other things, our yearbook needs a NAME! And a cover design---So all you creative people, don't just sit there--put your talents to use--design a cover (size of paper--roughly 8" x 11") and submit them to Susan Orrom in the SAGE office. There will be a prize for the best design.

Yearbook committee

P.S.

If there is anyone interested in working on the yearbook in any of the numerous areas (advertising, photography, grads, social, sports etc.) contact Sue Orrom in Room 155 or under yearbook in the mailbox in the Student Common Room

SPORTS

The JOGGING CLUB meets daily at 12:15 near the north goal posts.
Women's team practices continue weekly as follows:

Basketball Tuesdays 6-8pm Erindale Secondary School

Volleyball Wednesdays 6-8pm Erindale Secondary School

Ice Hockey Instruction Clinic Nov. 3rd 12:30 noon to 1:30
Nov. 6th 12:30 noon to 1:30

ALL WOMEN WELCOME!!

In order to allocate the best suited time for games and practices it is imperative that those women intending to participate in ice hockey indicate their interest and timetables to the physical education office--Room 171 before 12:00 noon on Wednesday October 15th. Everyone female is welcome to participate.

MEN'S ACTIVITIES

HOCKEY tryouts for the Erindale College Hockey Team continue on Tuesday October 14th 10:00 pm to 12:00 midnite at Huron Park. Players needed.

LACROSSE schedule has now started and Erindale meets Innes at 8 pm on Tuesday October 14th at Hart House. On Thursday Oct. 16 Erindale will play PHE. A team at 6:15 at Hart House for the second lacrosse game of the week.

BASKETBALL practice Tuesday October 14th 6:00pm to 8:00pm at Erindale Secondary

VOLLEYBALL practice Wednesday October 15th 6:00-8:00 pm at Erindale Secondary.

FLAG FOOTBALL

Flag football got off to an excellent start this week, thanks mainly to Commissioner John Kanakas. Wrinkles in the rules and officiating are being smoothed out gradually. A revised set of rules will be handed out next week and 3 officials per game will be used from now on. We ask that players please respect the calls of the officials without childish yelling and screaming. Complaints may be entered on the game sheet after each game. If your team has anyone who thinks he is perfect please send him to John Kanakas. He will then become the referee, otherwise let the refs we have call the game.

Here are the results of the first weeks play:

Team E (III)	8.....	Team A(I)	6
Team C (II)	20.....	Team D(II)	0
Team C (II)	20.....	Team A(I)	6
Team E(III)	19.....	Team B (I)	0

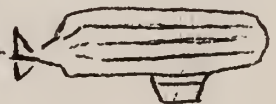

Weeb Eubank, Leo Cahill and Vince Lomardi visited the last set of games and all predicted a championship for the 3rd year team, largely due to their 700 lb. "front 3" of Cook, McGill and Shaw. Only head scout Clyde Ankle from University of Frobisher Bay predicted victory for Team C of 2nd year.

SOCCER: The football field is reserved on Wednesdays between 12 and 2 for soccer. Everyone interested in playing soccer come out October 15th at 12 so teams can be chosen for games.

VOLLEYBALL--CO-ED

The co-ed volleyball league did not succeed. Instead the volleyball net will be put up everyday from 12 to 2. So everyone interested in playing or trying to play come out to the volleyball court Monday to Friday. The more the merrier.

S.A.G.E. IS FUN--- THINK ABOUT IT.

ERINDALE STUDENT KIDNAPPED

Special To The Erindalian:

On October 3, in the early hours of the morning, a member of our college was kidnapped from his apartment. He was taken to a large house nestled far back from the main road where unspeakable acts of horror were performed to his body.

The victim, who wishes to remain anonymous, was tied to a stake on a flat rocky area close to a large body of water. He was nearly smothered in the melee that followed. "I don't know if it was a ritual or a gang squabble," he said. He had been pelted with eggs and covered with syrup and flour. "Man, it was in my ears and everywhere."

A second victim, also male, was accosted in the house. A blanket had been thrown over his head before he was attacked. Fortunately through a great feat of strength, the second managed to escape. No detail was given as to how he had been in the house.

Neither of the students could make positive identification on their attackers but both said that they were female and about ten or eleven in number. An investigation is pending but no charges have been laid.

DRESSED FOR THE OCCASION

Everybody wanted to wish John Hazlewood a happy birthday, even a Mr. John Stammers who went all out---he went so far as to wear his "birthday suit". You guessed it! At the height of the evening, for reasons unknown, (somebody said something about a dollar bet) our John Stammers proceeded to disrobe (God help the innocent young girls in the crowd) until finally, completely nude, he performed a most graceful pole-vault into the pool. At that particular moment, lurking in the shadows (lurk, lurk) were two "dinted" dames coiled for the spring. Meanwhile back at the pool, distracted by his own feats of magnificence, Mr. Stammers, unfortunately, even though his periscope was at full height, failed to notice the two sinister characters making off with his "gotchies".

After completing his ten strokes, John emerged from the pool in sparkling splendor to find the cold night air was his only remaining protection.

The fans went wild!

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE STUDENT COMMUNITY

A number of students have expressed dissension, dissatisfaction, and assorted mild disinterest concerning the apparant dirth of social activity. As chairman of the Social Committee. I would like to clarify our position.

In the latter weeks of the summer a social calendar was created. During the first week of college a tentative date was set for the public exhibition of the lunar rocks-- namely the weekend of the 4th and 5th of October.

Naturally the Social Committee carefully avoided planning anything on this weekend for obvious organizational difficulties. Then as you know, the exhibition of the lunar rocks was changed at the last minute.

It is a shame, because people would have welcomed a dance on Sat. night but no one is to blame, for we are all victims of circumstance.

We tried an experiment last week (you may remember the sexy ad--- SEX in room 257) in an optimistic attempt to get some of you off your rumps and out of your silence (rumour has it that you freshmen are still not talking to each other; we know that you are not talking to us.) The results: five people showed an active interest in what we had planned. At least twenty people waited outside waiting for something to happen. I refuse to lead you by the hand! Social events at Erindale cannot and will never occur by themselves; when they are advertised, be there!

NOTICES

On Friday 17 October, I plan to lecture on Witchcraft.

Saturday 18 October at 3 P.M.---- a bus Paint-In and party ~~is~~ to take place. It's free. Just bring talent and your own supper. We provide paint, brushes, a bus, music, and a comfortable fire at the Colman Place.

On All Hallow's Eve (Oct. 31) the Committee has planned a masquerade dance. If you are shy, this is the time to meet someone. No one will be admitted without a costume, so start-getting ready now. Feel free to come stag----- a date is a drag.

Please feel your responsibility keenly enough to approach our Committee with advice, demands, or questions. Let us know how you think things should be done (if you don't know us; ask at the S.A.G.E. office.

MOON ROCKS PROVIDE EXCUSE FOR SOCIAL WHIRL

Dr. and Mrs. Wilson have hosted three successive "rocktail" parties this week to introduce Dr. David Strangway of Erindale College.

Entitled "Moonshine and Green Cheese Parties" they were held on Wednesday, Thursday, and again tonight. The total guest list numbered about six-hundred.

Those invited included academics, faculty members, student's council (S.A.G.E.) executive and such local notables as the Mayor and The Associates of Erindale.

Ron Bower is a small gas. English assignment is to create a seductive poem - either an argument to get a woman into bed, or the acceptance or refusal ... Well, I'm writing the argument, and two girls in the course are replying (next week). We'll then ask readers to judge the strength of each, and decide if I'm getting laid or not.

TO MY ABNORMAL VIRGIN WITH A FEATHER IN HER EAR

I know your fear
 an expanding womb,
 but would you save
 your chastity to the tomb?
 You know our love transcends our wildest hopes - so close are we yet still I crawl and grope
 in search of words
 that reflect my void - an empty grin, I give
 no girl, no baby boy,
 alas! what pain
 in what despair I live,
 please, let us lay together
 only your loving arms around me, tenderness to give:
 your laugh, your mind
 your kindness and pleasantry unite us; but can we always live together happily?
 We must discover Us before
 our love is wowed 'forevermore'.
 ... another gin and tonic, my dearest? ...

He has created equally our bodies ready for consumption yet still you stop us short of ecstasy - that assumption that our love is WRONG,
 your friends attest to this a momentary pain, but fast eclipsed by bliss
 ... another, my love?...

This news, oh! how it grieves
 me so to say:
 I leave, within a week
 I go away, perhaps,
 to never see you, perhaps within a year
 the urgency I feel for us - the pain I cannot bear - come - let us lay
 and let us love
 before the wind steals me away
 and parting lifts a starless nite above
 ... another gin and tonic, my sweet?

but, no, do you deny my heart?
 you scoff and mock my tears,
 my hopes and words fall scattered on smugly deafened ears
 okay! forget it! have your way
 I have but this to say:
 you'd better get it while you can because, my dear, you're far too fugly
 for any other man -

-Pete Armstrong

THE MOON AS CHEESE

(I can see him yet)
in his bachelor rooms
bending stiffly
the proud patriot
flickering his fingers
in nimble esteem
pinching the powders
and pieces of spice
in the crafts of Flourescent-lit cuisining fondling a fruit from the Frigidaire of ideals
and celery directions
cringed in enamel cover
in a corner, and if you card-carrying deem yourself a friend
he will treat you to his cup of coffee
whipping the cream
from a cannister
lightening the colour, while ruminating his kitchen politics
over the bacon sizzle of his pan.
